In accordance with the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR) for English level B2, this B2.2 course completes the B2 level (begun in the B2.1 course), consolidating students' competence in: understanding the main ideas of complex text on both concrete and abstract topics, including technical discussions in their field of specialization; interacting with a degree of fluency and spontaneity that makes regular interaction with native speakers quite possible without strain for either party; producing clear, detailed text on a wide range of subjects and explaining a viewpoint on a topical issue giving the advantages and disadvantages of various options.

Through an exploration of the songs of Bob Dylan and their themes, the course covers:

Analyzing a selection of Dylan's songs and understanding them in their historical and cultural context

Exploring the genre of protest songs from slave times to the present day

Reading and analyzing a selection of short stories related to Dylan's themes

Speaking about, discussing and presenting topics relevant to the overall theme

Writing reviews, summaries, essays and creative pieces

Academic English, with particular reference to its features and characteristics, understanding academic texts, and paraphrasing and citing sources correctly to avoid plagiarism

Grammar with particular reference to preparing for the Language in Use section of the Cambridge B2 First exam.
